Buttermere walk pdf version windows 10

Unless you're buying custom-made window treatments, you have to find pieces that actually fit your window. Coniston itself is a walkers' paradise with many making the summit of the Old Man their goal. Crummock Water is fed by Scale Force, the highest falls in the Lake District, and has a pretty pebbly beach at its northern tip which is a great place for a picnic and a swim in the summer. And if you're here between April and June, it's worth a little diversion to Stagshaw Gardens, a real hidden horticultural gem with an impressive array of azaleas, rhododendrons and camellias. At 57.8 metres, its top branches are higher than Nelson's Column. Foodies should seek out nearby Yew Tree Farm, another National Trust tenant, which featured in the film Miss Potter with Renee Zellweger and sells delicious farm-bred Herdwick and Belted Galloway meat.Greenedale and Middle Fell, Western FellsPhotograph: David Lyons/AlamyDistance 3.5 milesStart Greendale, grid ref: NY144056National Trust downloadable route and mapIf you want to go walking without the company of scores of other hikers, head west. Take a moment to pause at Peace How, a small summit bought for the benefit of the nation in 1917 as a place where soldiers returning from the front line could find some tranquility.Photograph: Steve Walby/AlamyDistance 3.6 milesStart Maggie's Bridge car park, grid ref: NY134210National Trust downloadable route and map There's something morbidly fascinating about corpse roads and there are plenty of them in a place as rural as Cumbria. Gifted to the National Trust by Beatrice Potter, the path around it has been made accessible for buggies and mobility scooters, which makes it a haven for walkers of all ages and abilities. The valley is thought to be where Norman warriors were defeated in battle – and the bluebells which bloom there every spring are said to grow from their blood. Ambleside itself is a good place to while away a little time with its array of independent shops and restaurants, as well as the quirky Bridge House and nearby Townend, a house with a fascinating history to share.Buttermere to RannerdalePhotograph: David Noton/NTPLDistance 3 milesStart National Trust car park, grid ref: NY172172National Trust downloadable route and map The trees at the southern tip of Buttermere, known as The Sentinels, are said to be the most photographed in the country. Sheer curtains over the windows enhance the light and airy ambience of the room, especially if you live in an area with plenty of outdoor breezes. But those who don't venture the few extra miles are missing out. Hardware may refer to the brackets and supports that hold the window treatment in place or decorative pieces like finials at the end of curtain rods.Get to Know Your WindowsBefore you start shopping for window treatments, take a good look at the spot you want to dress. On 19 November 2009, 316mm of rain fell here – a UK record for a 24-hour period and a major contributing factor in the devastating floods which hit the county. Blinds and shutters are typically made from sturdy materials like wood or metal and have slats that open and close. Loweswater is a really pretty little lake and the woodlands which surround it are home to a number of red squirrels. The beautiful Steam Yacht Gondola was first launched in 1859 then rescued and rebuilt by the National Trust in 1980. And the bridge isn't the only historic relic in this area – it's also where you'll find the very rare vendace, a fish from the last glacial period which only lives in Sprinkling Tarn and the watercourses which flow into Derwentwater and Bassenthwaite Lake. MORE FROM SMARTER.COM Distance 4 milesStart Grange in Borrowdale, grid ref: NY253174National Trust downloadable route and map Borger Dair was described by the famed fellwalker and writer Alfred Wainwright as the “finest square mile in Lakeland” and it's not difficult to see why. They add splashes of color or tie together all the pieces of furniture and accessories in the space to create a cohesive look. At the same time, they provide privacy for you and your family and help you control the amount of light that enters your home. Frame windows with curtains in a bold color to add contrast to the room. Light green glass allowed them to see how the scenery looked in spring, for example, with dark blue being reminiscent of moonlight and light blue giving the illusion of winter.Seathwaite to Sty Head and Grains GillPhotograph: Ron Evans/AlamyDistance 5.5 milesStart Seathwaite farmyard carpark, grid ref: NY235121National Trust downloadable route and map It's unusual to see bridges designated as Grade I listed 'buildings', but Stockley Bridge near Seathwaite is such a rare specimen that it's been given that protection. But don't let the threat of rain put you off – the scenery around here is stunning.Ambleside to Troutbeck and back, via WansfellPhotograph: Matthew Antrobus/NTPLDistance 5.8 milesStart Market cross, central Ambleside, grid ref: NY376044National Trust downloadable route and mapNational Trust rangers made a great find this winter – the tallest tree in Cumbria and the tallest grand fir in England towering above its neighbours in Skelghyll Woods near Ambleside. It's on an old packhorse route where precious goods such as wool and coal were transported for centuries. You should get three measurements for each dimension (left, center and right for the width and top, middle and bottom for the length and depth).This information will help you narrow your search. But this walk isn't all gloomy. Trade blinds for drapes to add softness to the room, or swap heavy curtains for shades to lighten the space. For a quirky picnic point on this walk, stop at Greendale Tarn – it's set in a deep hollow and its stream, oddly, looks like it's flowing the wrong way.Tom Gill to Tarn Hows, ConistonPhotograph: Paul Harris/National Trust Photo LibraryDistance 1.6 milesStart Car park at Tom Gill (at Glen Mary Bridge), grid ref: SD321998National Trust downloadable route and mapThis idyllic fell-top tarn offers one of the most iconic views in the Lake District – but despite looking like it has been there for eternity, it is actually man-made, created by a Leeds mill owner in 1865. For example, if the window casings look a bit worn and you don't have time to replace them, you may want to opt for blinds or shades mounted on the outside of the window or pair a shade with curtains to disguise the casing.Pick a StyleThe final consideration when shopping for window treatments is the style of the room. Seathwaite also holds a place in history for its rainfall. It's worth heading off on this walk after rain – something there's rarely a shortage of in the Lake District – as Holme Force Falls are at their best on a soggy day.Coniston & GondolaPhotograph: Paul Harris/National Trust Photo LibraryDistance 4.6 milesStart Coniston Pier, grid ref: SD307970National Trust downloadable route and map In a county so packed with meres, tarns and water (notice I didn't say 'lakes' – there's only one true lake in the Lake District and that's Bassenthwaite Lake, north of Keswick), it would seem odd not to include a boat ride on at least one walk. Claife Heights, on the lake's western shore, featured in one of the first guidebooks to the Lakes, written by Thomas West in 1778. Top a shade with a printed valance or swag to give the window dimension. I'm not sure how something so lovely can come from such a gory legend!Stargazing stroll at Friar's Crag, KeswickPhotograph: Greg Artis/AlamyDistance 0.75 milesStart Lakeside car park, grid ref: NY265229National Trust downloadable walk and map A view described by John Ruskin as one of the three most beautiful scenes in Europe, Friar's Crag is a promontory jutting into Derwentwater looking out towards Derwent Isle and the surrounding scenery. There are many options for window design, but shopping for window treatments doesn't have to be a daunting task. From the stark beauty of Wasdale and its impressive scree to the timeless views (pictured) and Roman history of Eskdale, these valleys are an exceptional treat. CCO/Pexels/Pixabay The Finishing Touch to a RoomWindow treatments are a decorative and functional part of a room. You also want to find window treatments that enhance the window. Inside mount means the window treatment hangs inside the window casing. Nearby is the Kirksille Inn where you can sip a pint of Melbreak while gazing admiringly at the mountain of the same name. What you put over the windows may complement or contrast with the furniture and colors. Outside mount refers to a window treatment attached to the wall surrounding the window. If you know you're walking along one, you can almost feel the steps of the countless people who've gone before you, carrying their dead from their remote communities to their final resting places. On the other end of the decorating spectrum, cottage style has a casual, cozy feel. This area has been popular with visitors for centuries and with good reason. Inspect the window casing. Grab a steel tape measure and paper to record notes. Solid color curtains may provide an interesting contrast to the rest of the room and add a touch of softness. When the viewing station itself was built, its creators put coloured glass in the windows so that visitors could appreciate the views throughout the seasons, no matter when they visited. Solid color drapes and wood shutters work well in these rooms because they don't detract from the rest of the decor.CCO/PIRO4D/Pixabay Modern rooms have clean lines and feature a minimalist approach to decorating. Share your recommendations by adding a comment below or post a tip on Been there Note the number of windows, their basic shape and how closely they're grouped together. Work from left to right and top to bottom. Shades roll up and down over the entire window, but valances are just decorative pieces at the top.Other words that come in handy are installation terms. There are some easy walks around Buttermere, or around Cinderdale Common at Crummock, but for something a little more challenging, head to Rannerdale Knotts. You just need a basic understanding of the available options and have a plan for the room's design.Learn the LingoWhen you're shopping for window treatments, it helps to know the terms used to classify and describe them. Keep a lookout for it as you pass through the woods at the start of this walk. This side of the Lake District boasts unspoilt simple beauty and, probably because of its perceived inaccessibility, the area doesn't get as busy as the Lakes' heartlands. Start with the basics and learn the difference between blinds, shades, shutters and valances.CCO/mplosca/Pixabay Although some people use the terms interchangeably, they refer to specific types of window treatments. The land in this area was the first bit of the Lake District to be owned by the National Trust, and this gentle stroll to the lakeside will take you past memorials to both Ruskin and Canon Rawley, one of the Trust's founders. On a clear summer night, the open space and lack of light pollution makes this a perfect spot for stargazing.Do you have a favourite walk in the Lake District? Those with more walking experience should try this short steep approach to the tarn past Tom Gill Beck – pick a clear day for stunning views across Wetherlam and the Coniston fells.Ash Landing and Claife Heights, WindermerePhotograph: Simon Stapley/AlamyDistance 7.5 milesStart Car park at Ash Landing, grid ref: SD388954National Trust downloadable route and map In Windermere, you're right in the heart of the Lakes so finding accommodation, refreshment and a little retail therapy is never difficult. Changing the window treatments in a room is an easy way to update the look of the room without completely redecorating it. Traditional rooms feel warm and inviting. Shades and valances are pieces of fabric. You'll climb Castle Crag, the site of a hill fort some 2,000 years ago, which, though small in stature, offers some of the finest views you will ever see. Locate the window hardware.Then it's time to measure the windows' length, width and depth. It boasts majestic views – an attraction which the Victorians, in particular, made the most of. Simple shades and blinds carry the streamlined look throughout the room. Shutters add architectural detail that contrasts beautifully with casual furnishings. In these rooms you see wood accents, plush furniture and decorative items like baskets, plants and wall hangings that catch your eye. This is also a practical way to familiarize yourself with the available options for your windows so you can narrow your choices.
